which the proposed plan will be taken up.

A meeting of the directors of the Seaboard was to have been held in New York yesterday, but a quorum was not present, and it was postponed until next Tuesday. Rumors were current to-day that the financial plan of the Blair-Ryan-Coolidge syndicate contemplates the organization of a company under the name of the Seaboard Railways Company, with a stock and bond capitalization of about $55,000,000. This capitalization, according to report, will be divided as follows: Depenture 5 per cent, bonds, $10,000,000; preferred 5 per cent, bonds, $10,000,000; common stock, $25,400,000.

Blair and Company and their associates will buy the debentures and receive as a bonus $12,000,000 of the new common stock.

remainder of the stock issues will The remainder of the stock issues will be exchanged for the outstanding stock of the Scaboard Air Line on the basis of sixty shares of new stock for 100 shares of old stock. Under this arrangement the capitalization would be reduced from about $62,500,000 to about $59,000,000.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, June 23.—"Frankle" Love, a dark-haired, blue-eyed Georgia girl, has been missing since Tuesday from No. 160 West Seventy-ninth Street, where she had been boarding with her sister. Theima, since the sisters came to Nar York after the death of their purents in Georgia last winter.

Miss Love, in réporting her sister's absence to the police, said that she and her sister had quarreled and that the girl had left without a word.

"I have no friends in this city, and I did not want my relatives and friends in Virginia and Georgia to find out that we were in any trouble," said Miss Love to-day, "and on that account I made every effort to find her before appending to the police; but I must find Frankle. Once before, while attending a boarding school in Richmond, she ran away, but was found the next day."

ST. LOUIS, MO., June 23.—The police believe that the suicide by gas this morning of Ivan S. Houghton, a well-known ranchman, of Whitefall, Mon., is explained by the following letter:

"Pleasant Prairie, Wis., June 11, 1904.
"Dear Ivan,—I am glad to know that you can attend the fair. I have been thinking of going, but I still have two weeks of school, and don't know as I shall have time after that. And now to the all-important question. I would say in reply that I think I am willing to wait until such a time as you think sultable, but, Ivan, you had better think twice before you give up the Virginia lady. When I spoke of love being greater than money, I dldn't mean to infer that the Southern lady dldn't love you, but you spoke as though her money were the main object to be considered. There seems to be a pretty good understanding between her and you and it would be very nice to be able to unite your fortunes and not have to wait so long. I hope you may meet the Virginia lady before you deelde, You spoke of the duties of a ranchman's wife. Will you kindly inform me what they are. Aren't you coming to see me. You will be very near, and I should be glad to see you. Hoping to hear from you soon. I am, yours affectionately.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 23.—Emperor Nicholas has received the following dispatch from General Kuropatkin, under date of June 21st:

"A Japanese army from Kai-Chau is 'gradually advancing northward."General Kurokl's advance from Siu-Yen has been suspended, evidently to effect an alignment of the two armies. The strength of the enemy's vanguard is approximately a division and several squadrons of cavalry, and the Siu-Yen force of nine squadrons; supported by a strong column of infantry, toward the south.

"The enemy's position on June 19th and June 21st extended within seven miles southward to Semuchen, along a line from the sen to the mountainous and difficult district east of the rallway. The enemy's advance lines are being strongly held by cavalry and a screen of infantry. The passes and deflies in the mountains east of the rallway are also vigilantly guarded."
